Terms of service | Vinmonopolet's API Services

[Version: 01.09.2024]

General Terms and Conditions

- Vinmonopolet's Terms of Service (the "API Terms") describe your rights and responsibilities when accessing our publicly available application programming interfaces (the "APIs") and related API documentation. Please read them carefully.

- These Terms shall apply to any use of Vinmonopolet's APIs. As used in these Terms, "APIs" means programmatic web APIs, software and other functionality and their associated tools and documentation that Vinmonopolet makes available to you.

- These API Terms form a binding contract between you and Vinmonopolet.

- The API Terms does not grant you rights to use any other of our tools/platform/interfaces.

- Subject to the restrictions below, this API Terms grant you a non-exclusive, non-transferable limited license to access our APIs and documentation only as necessary to develop, test and support an integration of your applications with the Services.

- The information is provided through APIs by Vinmonopolet.

- Your network and the operating system and software of your servers, databases, and computer systems must be properly configured to securely operate your application and store data. Data must be stored and served using strong encryption.

Liability

- Vinmonopolet does not warrant the completeness, accuracy, reliability, suitability or availability of the information, products, services, or other related graphics contained in the API. Vinmonopolet is not to be held liable for a situation where the APIs are being temporarily unavailable due to technical issues or any other reason. Any reliance you place on information provided though Vinmonopolet's APIs is therefore strictly at your own risk.

- In no event will Vinmonopolet be liable for any loss or damage including, without limitation, indirect or consequential loss or damage, or any loss or damage whatsoever arising from loss of data or profits arising out of, or in connection with, the use of the APIs.

- Through the APIs, you might be able to link to information delivered by third parties which are not under the control of Vinmonopolet. Vinmonopolet takes no responsibility, and have no control over the nature, content and availability of this information.

Restrictions

- You may not sell, rent, lease, redistribute, or syndicate access to any of Vinmonopolet's APIs. API access and consequently from its use gained API data, is for your use only and access may not be shared with third parties, except for subcontractors who are part of Vinmonopolet's supply chain such as distributors and similar subcontractors.[1]

- Applications and developers are also prohibited from:

  - degrading or compromising security in any way
  - providing access to Vinmonopolet in any fraudulent or unauthorized way, including bypassing or circumventing Vinmonopolet's protocols and access controls
  - using unpublished APIs
  - using information gained from any API to inflict with Vinmonopolet's purchase procedures in any way
  - including misleading and/or deceptive statements about application functionality, performance, origin or data use
  - transmitting any viruses or other code that may damage, detrimentally interfere with, surreptitiously intercept or expropriate any system or data
  - access/use our APIs or documentation in violation of the Alcohol Act or any other law or regulation,
  - access our APIs in any manner that
    - compromises, breaks or circumvents any of our technical processes or security measures associated with the Services
    - poses a security vulnerability to customers or users of the Services, or
    - tests the vulnerability of our systems or networks
  - access our APIs or documentation in order to replicate or compete with the Services
  - attempt to reverse engineer or otherwise derive source code, trade secrets, or know-how of our APIs or Services
  - attempt to use our APIs in a manner that exceeds rate limits, or constitutes excessive or abusive usage

[1] This includes developers contracted by you. Developers may be granted access, but solely for the purpose of development and integration with your internal applications. You are responsible for terminating the developer's API access as soon as the purpose of the sharing is no longer present.

- use API data to initiate order process involving sending emails to Vinmonopolet
- use API data to analyze and reveal competitors' company secrets

Termination

- You may terminate the contract by discontinuing use of our APIs.

- Vinmonopolet may terminate the contract with or without cause, and without notice to you. Upon termination of the contract, all rights and licenses granted to you will terminate immediately.

- Upon termination of the contract, you will promptly destroy copies of any documentation and any Vinmonopolet information in your possession or control that was received under the contract.

Confidentiality

- You understand that any APIs or documentation that are not made generally available, but that are otherwise made available to you, are confidential information.

User declaration

- Please read carefully the following statements and conditions of use of the data.

- The user has read in full, understands and accepts all of the above notes and warnings concerning the source, reliability and use of the data available under the API terms.

- The user will not use the API or related API documentation in violation with the Alcohol Act or other laws or regulations.

- Any breach of contract inflict responsibility to the user to cover any damage suffered by Vinmonopolet caused by the breach of contract.
